About the Event

Abstract: What will the world look like after the pandemic? The question, increasingly, is no longer whether we will return to normal after the pandemic, but whether we really want to return to normal. Labor, the environment, the economy, education and healthcare are just five examples of things that should change after this crisis. Are we really sure that we want to go 'back to normal' after the pandemic? Did we like that 'normality' so much? And since we have managed to make a clean break with it... why not take advantage and move on to something better?

Bio: Enrique Dans is professor of innovation at IE Business School since 1990. He has a Bachelor in Science from Universidade de Santiago de Compostela, an MBA from Instituto de Empresa and a Ph.D. in Management Information
